

I had the opportunity to work with Community Futures Sun Country for the last 4 years. I love and appreciate this work because it makes a difference for our clients and the communities we serve. We provide direct support and one on one assistance. Community Futures is not your ordinary consultancy, coaching business or just a lender – it provides customized services and support based on the businesses needs. We fill the gap that in rural areas and know our communities since we live here.

The team of CF Sun is incredible to work with – passionate, committed, professional and very personable.

When I started my employment here, I thought I knew what Community Futures was about, I did not! The programs, workshops, coaching and of course financing options are amazing. But that isn't the best of it. The way this organization works as a team, office to office, is nothing short of amazing. The willingness to work together for the greater good of Small Business is so refreshing. Those employed by CF are here because they believe in what they do; they truly care about Small Business and helping those entrepreneurs succeed.

I have been a part of the Community Futures Sun Country organization for the past 17 years. I like being part of an organization that has the best interest of our small business owners in mind. Owning and operating a small business in a rural community can have its challenges, but having personally worked here for so long, I know firsthand, Community Futures goes above and beyond to help in any way they can. Also, as a parent of a very busy household, Community Futures has been a great employer regarding flexibility and great benefits. I look forward to many more years being part of the CF community!
